Workshop on International Trade and Labour Markets

November 25-26, 2016

We are pleased to announce a workshop on International Trade and Labour Markets hosted by the Institute for Labour Law and Industrial Relations in the European Union (IAAEU) and the Chair of International Economic Policy at Trier University, Germany. The workshop will bring together international scholars researching at the intersection of international trade and labour economics using theoretical and/or empirical methods. The purpose of our workshop is to stimulate research in this field and to encourage networking among the field's researchers.

The workshop will be held at Trier University, Germany, on 25-26 November 2016. There will be an informal reception at the Trier Christmas Market on Thursday evening (November 24, 2016) where you can get in touch with other participants before the official start of the workshop on Friday morning. The conference dinner will take place on Friday evening. The workshop will end with a farewell lunch early Saturday afternoon. A participation fee of 130 Euro will cover coffee and drinks, lunches, and the conference dinner. In exceptional cases in which participants do not have sufficient funding, the IAAEU will attempt to partially cover accommodation and travel expenses.

Deadline for the submission of complete papers is August 31, 2016. Please send your contribution as a PDF to depinto@iaaeu.de including information on your affiliation, mail address, phone number and email. Authors will be notified no later than September 30, 2016 as to whether their contribution has been accepted for the workshop.

On behalf of the organizers Marco de Pinto, Laszlo Goerke and Xenia Matschke, we would like to invite you to come to Trier and attend the workshop. Please contact Marco de Pinto if you have any questions.

Further information will be provided on the web at www.iaaeu.de.
